MatchyGotchy Z is a psychedelic board-game designed by Koze, the creator of the critically acclaimed game Miscreated. MatchyGotchy Z is inspired by the jazz art scene and dreamy cityscapes of 1950s and 1960s America. Join the Zootastic, Eggsome, MatchyMart, Zootlandia and Rocket Scientists on a world tour filled with crazy adventures, in order to create a masterpiece. You will need to collect Zootopia's five elements (water, light, earth, fire and air), while matching them all to your color combo! You have only one life, so make it count. This is a custom board game for the Steam platform. When playing, you can use the right mouse button to interact with characters on the board! Clicking on the bricks of the board will let you move a character, for example by opening a door. If you match characters of the same color, they will automatically join your team. The game is fully playable with one controller too. Key features: - Two player's local or online cooperative mode - Tilt function: incline or decline the board to match colors on the board more easily - Different shapes for all five colors: square, triangle, diamond, pentagon and hexagon - Possibility to create exciting and crazy board layouts - 16:10 and 16:9 screen resolutions - 5 amazing backgrounds with different colors - 5 original digital music tracks - 1 rewindable bonus track MatchyGotchy Z is free to play. Payment will be charged to iTunes Account at the confirmation of purchase.

at's influential blog And, once again, my good friends Zenna & Nandini and their guests -- a truly excellent dinner in celebration of love and marriage. We were on the terrace of Crystal Restaurant, beautifully set up to take the beauty of the Atlantic Ocean and its pink candlelight. I wish I could show the reader how glowing and amazing the lights were! The first course was an elegant, finger licking, succulent Crab-Cream Pasta, Sea-Claw Prawns with Roasted Pine Nuts and Diced Spring Onions, Plum Chutney, the perfect balance of sweet, heat and savoury. The second was an excellent Omelette of white Cornish Hens, Bay Leaf, Fresh Green Coriander, beautifully poached in olive oil and served with Spring Pea and Fresh Romaine Lettuce. Personally, I love the potato dishes. Whether it be the adzuki Bean, radish greens and carrots served in the Pai Bee Palace in Christchurch or the exquisite Potato Pie served in the Ginger Hill Cafe in Austin I absolutely LOVE them. The final course turned out to be perfectly sweet, with moist Coconut Mousse and Bamboos with strawberries and hazelnuts. For dessert, the restaurant has a couple of creative desserts - a Baked Vanilla Bean with Lemon Curd, a plate of mixed berries, and a warm Banana Brownie stuffed with Goan Icing. Zenza, Nana, Brother Ag and Mrs Suhai were all in good form. It was indeed a day to remember for all the right reasons; the food, the company, the sun, the coast, the ocean and of course, of course, the loving couple. Love you all. By now the Search for the Best Local Vayurever Restaurant is well underway. With only one week to go, it's clear that the stakes are high...At last, I will write about my all time favourite Indian Restaurant, a place that is so good that I have made it for everyone in my entire family and referred it to countless friends, and is a place that I personally try and visit at least twice a month, if not more. I am talking of course, of Chennai's Tawa Kotto Thalattu Kurian, a restaurant where "Cuisine comes first" and there is no place for compromise The memory of Tawa Kotto Thalattu Kurian should last always, the thing that touched

I'm playing around on the PS4 version of Life is Strange and I figured I'd upload it, since I'm having so much fun ^^. Note: Some scenes would probably be rated a bit higher than others. I'll comment on the scenes if I find something I deem to be a bit shocking.
